PROFILE

Program leader who helps professionals adopt AI responsibly and turns data into decisions partners can act on. At Citi, built and put into production an AI tool for a professional community, then led the adoption and coaching around it, iterating with its users until it cut their review cycle by ~35%; wrote the Responsible AI framework the tool was governed by. Led multi-stakeholder programs with budgets, deadlines and executive audiences at JPMorgan Chase and Citi, and partnered with external bodies — federal regulators, the FDIC and the Federal Reserve — on work that had to satisfy them. As a doctoral researcher at FIU, designed a survey instrument, fielded it through a research panel of 334,976, and measured the audience funnel from reach to response: the practical side of audience analytics. The same research asks how professionals use AI without surrendering their judgment — the question every newsroom adopting AI now faces.
