PROFILE

AI governance and regulatory risk leader who has designed an AI governance framework, put a generative AI tool into production under it, and tested whether governance holds up as an auditor and a bank examiner. At Citi he wrote the framework for audit's own AI use against NIST AI RMF and model-risk guidance (use-case intake, risk tiering, control library, transparency, human-in-the-loop requirements and monitoring), then delivered a generative AI tool under it. Also designed model controls at JPMorgan Chase. Doctoral research at FIU on how AI-assisted review changes professional judgment.

SELECTED RESULTS

1	AI governance framework designed and put into operation: intake, risk tiering, controls, transparency, human review and monitoring across the AI lifecycle	Citi
~35%	Faster review from a generative AI assistant delivered under that framework, with prompt-injection guardrails and a person reviewing every output	Citi
15+	Business units under risk-based and consent-order closure audits; closure evidence accepted by external regulators	Citi
